William Black reported that the provision in this Bill recreates a statutory definition of what an electronic signature is. Each government entity will be able to promulgate rules relating to electronic transactions and records.

CALCULATORS FOR EXAMINATIONS – UPDATE – DARWIN TICHENOR

Darwin Tichenor reported on calculator use for examinations. Mr. Tichenor followed up on exploring the possibility of the Department providing calculators to the candidates at the examination site. In the future NCEES's may provide calculators at the examination sites. Cost of providing calculators would run $10.00 to $12.00 each, and be charged to the candidates as part of their examination fee. This requirement is about one year away.

Wisconsin needs to implement the NCEES calculator policy at the April 2004 examination. Mr. Tichenor distributed copies of NCEES policy which prohibits certain calculators from exam sites and included a list of approved calculators. Calculators with the capabilities of text editing or communication will be prohibited.

Mr. Tichenor discussed a proposal on implementing NCEES policy at the April exam. Exam candidates will be required to sign a statement noting the model of the calculator and sign an affidavit that the calculator they are using is valid and further certify that it does not have features for text editing, storing text in memory, or an IR port or other communication capability via wireless or cable connections to another calculator, personal computer, printer, or other electronic device.

The exam site will have a list of approved and prohibited calculators. It was suggested that a technical person or Board member should research calculators to see which ones are approved or prohibited.

NCEES policy has a verbatim statement on which calculators are allowable. The Department cannot deviate from NCEES policy. The Exam center will send out a list of accepted and prohibited calculators to the exam candidates prior to the examination.

MOTION: Martin Hanson moved, seconded by Dale Paczkowski, to proceed on Darwin's recommendation to include a notice regarding NCEES's policy on prohibited calculators with a list of approved calculators in a mailing to the applicants three weeks in advance of the examination, and include information on the web-site for examination registration, and that this be implemented at the examination site per Darwin Tichenor's recommendations. Motion carried unanimously.

REQUEST FOR PROCTORING IN JAPAN – DARWIN TICHENOR

Darwin Tichenor reported on Rodolfo Posis request to be proctored in Japan by the State of Oregon. Oregon agreed to proctor Mr. Posis as a Wisconsin Candidate. Mr. Tichenor distributed the Departments proctoring policy to the Section members. Mr. Rodolfo Posis is not on a temporary assignment in Wisconsin nor does he have any other connection to the State of Wisconsin.

MOTION: Martin Hanson moved, seconded by Dale Paczkowski, to deny Mr. Rodolfo S. Posis request to be proctored in Japan by the State of Oregon for a Wisconsin license. Motion carried unanimously.

COMPLAINT ABOUT FE EXAM – DARWIN TICHENOR

Darwin reported on a complaint from Mr. Wafa Ahmad regarding the FE exam. A review and challenge process is in place to review complaints on examination questions. The Section requested that the Department send a copy of the letter to NCEES. NCEES can review the questions and respond to Mr. Wafa Ahmad.
